VOL. XIII. RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1882. NO. 6.

COAST CLIPPINGS.

Eureka, Nevada, is annoyed by petty thieves.

The Vallejo, Cal., Navy Yard pay roll was $36,000 last month.

Goose Lake, in the northern part of California, is still frozen over.

It is said that 150 miners will leave the Comstock this week for Mexico.

Solano county, Cal., will have a very large grain, but small hay crop.

Eighteen feet and eight inches of snow fell at Emigrant Gap, Cal., last month.

The Sacramento river has risen to 21 feet, the highest point reached this season.

About 100 boats are engaged in salmon fishing in the Straits, Contra Costa county, Cal.

The Central Pacific is having the iron rails in the Winnemucca division replaced by steel ones.

Numerous attempts have been made for the last three months to burn the churches at San Jose, Cal.

The coal imports for March in San Francisco harbor were 74,000 tons, or 223,700 tons since the 1st of January, 1882.

The Star Oil Company are putting down wells at Newhall, Cal. The three old Temple wells in Tousley Canyon still have oil oozing out.

A street railroad, operated on the San Francisco cable plan, is soon to be constructed between Butte City, Montana, and Walkerville.

The residents of Palisade, Nev., traveled about that town last Saturday in rowboats, owing to the flow of water from the railroad washout.

A California lion measuring seven feet from tip to tip was recently killed in Winchester canyon, Santa Barbara county, Cal., by Fred Curran.

A petition has been sent to Washington by the Indians on the Nez Perce reservation asking that Montieth, the newly appointed agent, be removed.

Dr. J. F. Speck, who is connected with the Wilmington Every Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it upon himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

LESSONS IN LIFE.

There seems to be room in the world for all, and yet many fail. Why is it? Undoubtedly one reason why so many men are poor is that they lose the confidence of those whom they try to serve. Many men shipwreck by trying to avoid paying honest debts. They seem to think if they can get a few goods and not pay for them they have made money. No young man ever made a greater mistake. Make no debts you cannot pay, and then pay promptly, is a golden rule of business.

A very interesting conversation between some gentlemen recently illustrated other causes of failure. One said: "Once I bought some wood of a man who piled it up very carefully so as to make every stick raise the pile as high as possible. I found also that it was short of four feet. I said nothing, but I have since noticed that he waits longer to sell his wood than others. He is a poor man and always poverty-pinched."

Another man told about hiring a man to fix his cistern and saw him spit on the floor of it. After he got through working it seemed to leak a little worse than before, although he charged more than a good job would have been worth. That man is idle a good deal of the time, and his family has hard work to get sufficient clothing.

A third gentleman said he hired a big stout fellow to saw some wood, and the price was agreed on beforehand. Afterwards he found a good many sticks too long for the stove, and they had to be cut again. In piling up the wood the man had broken the fence considerably. He never said a word, but hired another man next time. Others seem to do the same, for he has had to get help from the county to keep his family, while other sawyers have money in the bank.

A merchant said he bought some packed butter from a farmer that looked very nice on top, but below was a layer of older butter that had been badly churned. That man has trouble in selling his produce, and gets the lowest prices. He is poorer than he was ten years ago.

Still another man said many years ago he bought a bolt of muslin of a merchant for cash, and found afterwards that a neighbor had got the same kind at a lower price and had it charged. The reason was that he had a glib tongue and impudence. The merchant's goods get faded and out of style and he often sells out at cost. Other men have started on less money and got rich. He keeps about where he started. Examples could easily be multiplied. They prove the old-fashioned maxim, "Honesty is the best policy," and by it men of industry and intelligence can rise in the world. Without it permanent success is impossible. Give value received for every dollar you get, and do not let a dollar go without receiving its value.

THE CHINESE ELSEWHERE.

The Board of Supervisors of San Francisco are devising a plan to remove the Chinese out of the city limits and place them on a reservation set apart for their occupancy. Such a discrimination has been for many years practically pursued in the large cities on the island of Java, in the Dutch colonies. There in Batavia the Chinese control nearly all the retail or Toko and Klontong trade, and are under the direct supervision of a so-called Chinese Major, or Captain, who represents their interests before the Dutch tribunals, and who, under heavy bonds to the Colonial Government, keeps order in Chinatown—a site seperately designated for their inhabitation. In Saigon—Cochin-China, a French colony, where they also outnumber all other tradesmen, mechanics, and especially thieves (the scum of China immigrating there)—their town is also detached from the white population. In Australia their landing is virtually prohibited, as only a few of their countrymen are allowed on each vessel entering the Australian harbors, and an income tax is fixed at £10 per capita.

THE COMPETING CHINAMAN.

The veto of the Chinese bill will affect many trades and professions, as will be seen by the following report, prepared by the Board of Trade in San Francisco. In that city there are engaged as—

Cigar makers: 8,500 Chinese, 179 whites.

Manufacturers of clothing: 7,510 Chinese, 1,000 whites.

Makers of boots and shoes: 5,700 Chinese, 1,100 whites.

Boot and shoe factories: 150 Chinese, 37 whites.

Slipper factories: 49 Chinese, no whites.

The same condition of things extends through all branches of industry. In California the Chinese are extensively engaged in making all the following articles:

Boots and shoes, barrels, brushes, boxes, brooms, blankets, bricks, blinds, clothing, cans and canned goods, cigars and cigar boxes, cloth, cordage, furniture, flannels, gloves, harness, jewelry, jute bagging, knitted goods, leather, matches, paper, rope, soap, straw goods, sashes, saddles, shirts and under clothes, slippers, twine, tinware, wine, willow-ware and whips. Also, employed as cooks, carpenters, domestic servants, expressmen, farm laborers, fishermen, firemen on steamers, laundrymen, locksmiths, miners, painters, peddlers, sign writers, waiters, and at repairing clocks and watches. Also, employed in chemical works, flour mills, lumber and planing mills, distilleries, powder factories, smelting works, vineyards, on railroads, ranches, and in almost every department of industry as laborers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is no reason to doubt that a sixteen-year bill would be vetoed by the President, and it is the belief of Republicans that Farley and his Democratic associates intend if possible, to secure the passage of a bill which will invoke another veto. With all their show of zeal, they prefer that no bill shall become a law, provided they can fix the responsibility of the failure upon the Republicans. It will be remembered that when the vetoed bill was passed by the Senate Farley proposed, and by aid of Democratic votes, secured the adoption of two or three amendments which had no other object than to make the bill objectionable. One of these was the prohibition of the immigration of skilled laborers; another forbade the naturalization of Chinese by any State court. There was no pretense that these things were demanded on the Pacific coast, nor was there any attempt to secure their adoption by the Committee before the bill was reported to the Senate. The insincerity of the Democrats in all their actions upon the Chinese question is proved by the introduction of a measure which will almost certainly encounter a veto should it pass the two houses of Congress.

M. D. Boruck is reported as saying that he "wouldn't give a cent to be the nominee of a party that has made such a dark record on the Chinese question," and that California will be Democratic for ten years to come, in consequence of the late veto. We do not believe that the mercurial Marcus ever made any such remarks. He is too cute a politician not to know that neither of the political parties can be blamed for Arthur's blunder.

Of the 225,000 miles of railroad in the whole world, one hundred thousand are in the United States.

Arthur's veto is a plain violation of the platform of the Republican party.

The Democratic Press in Favor of Chinese.

NEW YORK, April 7.

The Sun (Dem.), under the caption "A Wise President," has the following leader: "When Arthur was told that his veto of the Chinese bill would be injurious to the Republican party in the Pacific States, he gave a reply which ought to be preserved in letters of gold for the instruction of all future statesmen. He said: He had not considered the subject as partisan, and had not thought whether one party or the other would be advanced through executive approval or disapproval of the bill, but he saw that American principles were involved which had been in vogue for a century, and if either party should gain any permanent advantage it would be the party that stood on the true American ground. This is a wise answer. It shows high and noble appreciation of the philosophy of political controversies. There can be no mistake in steadily maintaining American principles which have been in vogue for 100 years against the passions or interests of any unenlightened and prejudiced locality.

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

An Ex-Minister's Views.

NEW YORK, April 7.

The Herald publishes a long letter from George F. Seward, ex-Minister to China, on the Chinese question, in which he said his own view of the matter is, that the Chinese high officials, while swayed by a variety of considerations, felt keenly the indignity offered to their nation in our proposal to discriminate between their people and those of other countries in the matter of immigration, and that the Chinese Commissioners who negotiated the treaty in particular expected to justify themselves before the nation for assenting to such discrimination by saying that we would be found soon asking China, as other nations had done, to put no obstacles in the way of emigration. To the question of how the Chinese will regard the President's veto, there is no occasion to make a detailed answer. The Chinese Minister at Washington, in a memorandum, which, like all Chinese state papers, is studiously dignified and courteous, has pointed out to the United States the features, or at least some of the features, of the vetoed bill which would be regarded with distavor there. He has not said what action if any his Government would take in retaliation if the bill should become a law. To those who know the nature of our treaty relations with China and the character of that Government it is painfully evident they would not accept our course with complacency. It does not follow they would cut off their relations with the United States, but it is certain that we would lose all favor at the capital, and that our people in trade, our missionaries, when abused by the people or by the lower officials, would find redress difficult to procure. Their success in one or the other sphere of effort depends not a little, to say the very least, upon the continuance of friendly relations between the two governments. Separated by our act from a general concert of action among the western powers, yielding to an unjust cry against the Chinese in our midst, faithless to a fair regard for treaty stipulations, our position would be one in which we could not feel much respect for ourselves, and still less could we expect much from the Chinese. So far as the action of the President saves us from such disadvantages and humiliation, he will receive the thanks of all those who are interested in that country. The day is not far distant when his veto will command unqualified approval and admiration as a State paper worthy of the Chief Magistrate of a great people who regard duty and principle as paramount to party cries and party necessities. The veto has saved us from a wrong step for the time being, but it should be said that our whole policy in this matter of immigration is wrong, and that we ought to retrace all steps we have taken. To object to Chinese immigration, in so far as it is evil, can be justified to the Chinese, to the world at large, and to ourselves. If there are criminals who come from China, or lewd women, or diseased persons, or contract laborers, let us by all means shut them out; but let us at the same time stand by our principles in regard to the immigration of honest freemen, placing no bar against the Chinaman as a Chinaman, still less against the Chinaman as a laborer. Taking up this position, we shall meet all real difficulties of the situation, and conserve our principles while maintaining our influence with China and prospects of beneficial intercourse with her people.

A Sensible Idea.

NEW YORK, April 7.

A Washington special says the new Secretary of the Interior gave expression to his views on one point of the Indian question to-day, that indicates the modification of Secretary Kirkwood's policy. He was asked what he thought of the allotment of land in severalty to Indians. Said he, "the allotment in severalty I don't regard as practicable, except in cases where Indians are partly civilized. It is of no use to put wild Indians on land parcelled out to them, because they won't stay on it. If we do, they do not want a lot of land set off for themselves, because they don't realize the worth of it. If Indians are somewhat civilized, so as to know the value of land, and what it may be made to produce, and then are broken in to work it, it might do to give them a farm, but the wild Indians do not want a farm, and will not stay on one if it is given them. It is believed that the Indian policy under the new Secretary will be characterized by more firmness in practical dealing with Indians than for some years.

A Terrible Cyclone.

TOPEKA, Kansas, April 7.

A cyclone started south of the Arkansas, near Raymond, Rice county, last night, and moved in a northerly direction. It prostrated telegraph poles when it crossed the Santa Fe track. John Wilson's house was blown down and Mrs. Wilson killed, and a Mrs. Parker fatally injured. Several other large houses were demolished. Proceeding north, the storm struck the new town of Chase and demolished 23 of the 26 buildings in the place, threw cars from the track, and did other damage. Mr. Reed, a hotel keeper, was killed, and his wife fatally hurt. Another woman and child were killed about the same time.

A small cyclone, with a veritable water-spout, passed through the eastern part of the county later in the day, but did but little damage. At C. B. Lawrence's farm water was sucked out of the wells. The cloud, as it approached the town of Chase was funnel-shaped, whistling and twisting with fearful velocity. All the inhabitants of Chase were more or less hurt. The hurricane covered an area of less than half a mile wide, but leveled everything within its path. There are reports also of high and destructive winds and heavy rains in the vicinity of Keokuk and along the Wabash and Rock Island roads in Iowa at Keosanqua and Lumeston.

A Growl from Massachusetts.

BOSTON, April 7.

President Arthur has caused cold chills to run up and down the spinal columns of the Republicans of Massachusetts by the nomination of Roland Worthington Collector at Boston. His action can be construed as nothing less than a snub to civil service reformers, who constitute so large a portion of the party in this State, and a rebuke to anti-Stalwartism, so prevalent here. Mr. Beard, the retiring Collector, is on all sides admitted to have been a faithful and energetic official, and has kept the Custom-house as much out of politics as possible. Last week a reporter found leading representatives of the great commercial interests of the city practically unanimous for Mr. Beard's retention. Newspapers have been unanimously against the change. Mr. Worthington is a respectable citizen, sixty years old, who has always been in the newspaper business. His paper (the Traveler) was Butler's organ as long as he was a Republican. His Stalwartism is of the most ultra kind. He abused Hayes' administration, advocated Grant's nomination, supported Garfield in a half-hearted manner, and since the assassination has talked Stalwartism in the most pronounced language. The Traveler is an ardent opponent of reform in civil service and a strong champion of the spoils system.

The New York Critic.

NEW YORK, April 7.

The Tribune editorially denounces Farley roundly for his new sixteen year bill, declaring he must have known this would call forth a veto as quickly as a twenty year bill, and he could have had no other object than to increase party capital.

In another article the Tribune shows the difference in firmness between Garfield and Arthur in the Cabinet appointments. Garfield gave a majority faction of the Republican party four members of the Cabinet, and the Stalwarts three. Arthur has given the majority one member and the minority six. The Tribune argues that Garfield's chief desire was to harmanize the Republican party; Arthur's to harmonize himself.

Meeting of the Committee on Foreign Relations.

WASHINGTON, April 6.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations held a special meeting this afternoon for the purpose of reconsidering the Chinese question on the basis of a modified bill introduced by Senator Miller yesterday. The committee devoted some time to a preliminary discussion of the subject, and meet again to-morrow or Saturday with a view of reaching some point of action as soon as possible.

A Michigan Hail Storm.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 7.

A severe hail storm visited this region yesterday afternoon. At Kendall, on the South Haven road, there was a regular cyclone. Mr. Wilde's house was blown down, he was killed, and his wife and friend injured. Other buildings were demolished. The cyclone moved east, across the northern part of the county, unroofing barns and doing other damage.

Another Victim.

YANKTON, Dakota, April 7.

The body of another victim of the Lunday Insane Asylum conflagration was found last night in a privy vault, supposed to be Joseph Havely of Deadwood. He was in the out-house when it burned, and the body fell through into the vault. This makes five victims.

An Insane Man Suicides.

LASSALLE, Ill., April 7.

A special from Newport says that Campbell, an insane man who shot J. R. Gott of Boston, seriously, was found dead in a ditch yesterday evening, having drowned in 18 inches of water.

Democratic Thunder.

NEW YORK, April 7.

"We have passed the Chinese bill!" shouted an Illinois statesman, when other Democrats chimed in with exclamations and objections, and great disorder prevailed for several moments. It did not subside until the Democrats had succeeded in demonstrating the fact that they care not a fig whether the Chinese go or come except as the agitation of the subject may increase Democratic political capital. Whatever treasure of that sort the Democrats have accumulated was utterly squandered, so far as that party in the House is concerned, by the performance of Springer and his followers to-day. Randall was shrewd enough to see the blunder that had been made and made desperate efforts to grasp the reins of the Democratic leaders. He at last succeeded in making himself heard with a proposition that the Democrats would allow Page's bill to be offered, provided those Democrats who had armed themselves with bills on the same subject were permitted to offer them. No Republican had ever objected to this being done. Page was anxious that his bill should go to the calendar without the formality of reference to a committee, but the Democrats would not allow it. His bill was finally admitted, as were two others on the same subject, offered by Democratic members, and then Springer capped the climax of his absurdity, by asking permission to print in the record some remarks on the veto of the Chinese bill, and appeared sadly disappointed when Kasson objected. The President's veto of the bill was sent to the Senate, in which body the measure originated. As the Senate has to sustain it, of course it can never be brought before the House, and Springer's request was therefore as absurd as it was unprecedented.

WESTERN.

Doings of Oregon Democrats.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.

The Oregon Democratic Convention adopted resolutions demanding legislative regulation of railroads, and tariff reform; attributing the assassination of Garfield to the Republican spoils system; denouncing polygamy and favoring a repeal of the navigation laws; demanding that their Congressional delegation do their utmost to secure an appropriation for Oregon river and harbor improvement. A resolution on the Chinese question was adopted, as follows: "That the President's veto of the Chinese immigration bill is a public misfortune. It sets a degrading mark of competition with Coolies from China upon labor and the workingmen of America; it treats with contemptuous derision the unanimous protests and appeals of the entire Pacific Coast. On behalf of the people of Oregon we disapprove, condemn, and declare it to be the duty of every citizen, regardless of party, to express his disapprobation with his vote as well as with his voice." The ticket completed is as follows: Secretary of State, J. K. Weathersford; Treasurer, H. Abraham; Superintendent of Public Instruction, W. H. Worthington; State Printer, Wilbur Corvell; Supreme Judge, Edward Shattuck.

FOREIGN

An Unfounded Report Regarding American Suspects in English Prisons.

LONDON, April 7.

A Times Dublin special says the report that the Irish American suspects have been liberated on condition that they quit the country, except two or three who refused to accept the conditions, is unfounded. About six of the suspects who are naturalized citizens of the United States, have been released within the last three weeks, but only on the same grounds as were the others who were liberated. Their citizenship is entirely disconnected with their release, the executive holding that all persons resident in Ireland are liable to English law, and are to be treated as British subjects. Among this class who were released was Boynton, who was liberated on account of ill health. There are only four of the same class now imprisoned.

JOTTINGS.

Easter cards at Allen's. *

For fine jewelry, at reasonable rates, call at I. Fredrick's. *

The funeral of the late James Chambers took place to-day.

Budden has views of the new Asylum for sale cheap. Read ad. in 50-column.

Fresh candies to-day at Nasby's Bazaar. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1, 3, —26, 35, 44, 46, 49.

The large quantity of agricultural implements at the freight depot denotes a boom in husbandry.

Passengers by the east-bound train this morning reported excessively cold weather on the moutains last night.

Sidewalk obstructions are exasperating to those who are compelled to pass through dimly-lighted streets after dark. *

Allen has just had some fine photographs and stereoscopic views of the Asylum taken. They will be for sale to-morrow. *

Next Sunday is Easter, and the last of Lent, when appetites may be given full sway by all who have the means of doing so.

Reno can supply any or all the towns in the State with typhoid fever. The fountain of supply is at the intersection of Commercial Row and Virginia street.

Good Friday brings a pleasing change of weather. For the past few days the cold has been of that peculiar degree suggested by a blast injected up ones' trowsers' leg from a bellows lustily manipulated.

The Spring crop of drunken Indians has appeared. Last evening, about dark, a bevy of boisterous bucks and squaws held high carnival on a back street. It is apparent that that they can obtain liquor in any desired quantity, provided they have the means of satisfying the cupidity of disreputable dealers.

A Mistake

Joe Cowing, who returned from Reno this morning, reports that the folks of that town hung President Arthur in effigy last night and that at 5:30 o'clock this morning he was still suspended to a lamp post on Virginia street.—Carson Tribune.

Mr. Cowing is mistaken. The people of Reno did not so far forget themselves as to hang the President of the United States in effigy. Some small boys, however, stuffed an old suit of clothes with straw and suspended the stuffed man to a telegraph pole. It had no signification whatever.

Cattle Notes.

Mat. Healy, who has a herd of 144 beefs corralled at Sullivan's, sold his stock yesterday to M. Brandenstein, of San Francisco.

The refrigerator company at Winnemucca bought one hundred head of steers from Marker Bros., of Big Meadows.

Ora Haley, of Cheyenne, has purchased 227 head of fat cattle of Colonel Hardin, at an average of about sixty dollars a head, for shipment.

Fruit Trees.

There are about nine hundred fruit trees at the freight depot awaiting shipment to Mason Valley, the garden of Esmeralda county. They came from the nursery of Stephen Conner, Reno, and are three and four years old, consisting of all the varieties known to the orchardists of this region. Apple trees sell for 30 cents each; others, such as peach, pear, plum, etc., bring 60 to 75 each for large lots.

The Highland Ditch Open.

Superintendent Evans says he will have the Highland ditch clear by Monday, and water enough for everybody after that day.

DEAD THINGS CRAWL.

The Fort Bidwell Mail Service to be Discontinued After July 1.

The Department at Washington has seen fit to order that the Fort Bidwell mail route shall be discontinued on and after July 1, 1882. The reasons given by the Postmaster-General are the withdrawal of some of the recommendations for daily service from Reno to Willow ranch, and the receipt of satisfactory evidence that such service will not be needed after that date.

The discontinuance of the Fort Bidwell line is a great disappointment to Reno, and no doubt it will be to the people in the northern country, for it is unquestionably the best route by far at any season of the year, and more particularly during the winter months, when deep snow makes the Redding route impassable. Reno had good reason for thinking the matter had been definitely settled for all time, but it seems now that we were mistaken. The change will place Reno at a disadvantage in competing with Redding and Chico for the northern trade.

The Department at Washington has a way of its own of doing these things, and it makes but little difference to them whether the people to be served are satisfied or not.

San Francisco Cattle Notes.

Mr. Brandenstein, the San Francisco wholesale butcher, gave a GAZETTE reporter the following facts about the San Francisco meat market: At an average, 200 head of cattle, from 800 to 1,000 sheep, and 100 calves are daily butchered for the San Francisco market, while about 100 calves are brought in, dressed, from the country. The retail trade prefers small beef, the wholesale price being from seven to eight and one-half cents per pound. Big cattle are not much in demand, the price being about one cent above the cost of small beef. At present this State supplies California with most of its beef. Only about one-quarter of the animals being butchered are of California production. In about two weeks the supply of California stock will be equal to the demand of the home market. In most cases, wholesale butchering at the Bay, at the present figures, is a losing game, the wholesaler being very glad to count the hide and tallow as his only profit.

Made His Escape.

A passenger from below this morning informs a GAZETTE reporter that Commander Sparks, of the ship Gatherer, who was arrested on the arrival of that vessel in the port of San Francisco for cruelty to seamen, made his escape last evening, and is supposed to have been taken outside the heads, and gone to sea. Sparks had assistance from the outside, and was taken away from near the City Prison in a carriage. He was out in charge of an officer.

Death at Cedarville.

Mrs. Catherine Hironymous, of Cedarville, Cal., wife of Jesse Hironymous, died at 8 o'clock A. M., Tuesday, April 4, at her residence in Cedarville. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon. Her death was caused by an ulceration of the stomach. Mrs. Hironymous leaves a large family and many warm personal friends to mourn her death.

Soldiers En Route.

Forty men of Company C of the First U. S. Cavalry and fifty-two horses, under command of Lieutenant Garvey, U. S. A., came up from Arizona this morning en route to Fort Bidwell. The company left here at the time of the Indian outbreak in that troublesome Territory last Fall, and have been scouting ever since. They are camped in Evans' field.

Good Friday.

Several Knights Templar went to Virginia this morning to attend Good Friday services at Bishop Whitaker's church. De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar will turn out in a body and march to the Episcopal Church. It is a good idea to get up something to encourage those who go to Virginia to attend church occasionally.

District Court.

The case of Gilson & Barber vs. W. E. Price was up in the District Court this morning, Judge Rising presiding. Motion for a new trial was argued and denied.

An objection to the confirmation of the report of sale in the Norton estate is up for argument before Judge King this afternoon.

Asylum Furniture.

M. Nathan has been awarded the contract for furnishing two hundred pairs of blankets to the new Asylum; Harris Brothers of Carson will furnish the dry goods; Manning & Berry will provide the hardware, etc.

Job Gardener.

John C. Wilmes, an experienced florist and gardener from California, is in town and prepared to do work in his line by the job, day or season at reasonable wages. Mr. Wilmes comes very highly recommended. See his ad.

Asylum Contract.

J. H. Millman, of Reno, has secured the contract for furnishing the Asylum with mattresses, one hundred and fifty in number.

Personals.

J. M. Benton, Carson, is on the street to-day.

S. Arnstein, Wadsworth, is in town to-day.

W. E. Price has returned from his visit to the East.

George R. King came up from San Francisco this morning.

Honorable Thomas Wren was a passenger for Eureka this morning.

Hon. R. Rising, Judge of the First Judicial District, is in town to-day.

Henry Munter, of Candelaria, was on the west-bound train last evening.

O. Lonkey, of the firm of Lonkey & Smith, went to Truckee last night.

P. A. Ziegenfuss, of Battle Mountain, passed through on the west-bound last evening.

J. J. L. Peel, of the house of Sisson, Crocker & Co., Truckee, and Pat Henry, of Hatz & Henry, Verdi, are in town to-day.

Rev. J. D. Hammond and wife, Carson, and Ed. Fowler and wife, Wadsworth, are in town, attending the musical convention.

A. A. Travis, owner of the Jackson mine—one of the richest in Homer Mining District—is in town, after a protracted tour through New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona.

W. T. Cressler, of the banking firm of Cressler & Bonham, Cedarville, came in on the Overland train last night, en route to his home from a visit East. Mr. Cressler attended the Cotton Exposition at Atlanta, Ga., during his visit.

The Concert To-Night.

The Musical Convention closes this evening with a grand concert, to be given under the direction of Professor Perkins. The concert promises to be the best musical entertainment ever given in Reno. Those who will take part have been thoroughly drilled for four days, under the directorship of one of the best masters in America. Some thirty-five of the best singers in the State will take part, including Virginia, Carson, Wadsworth and Reno. The Baptist Church is sure to be crowded. Go early.

A Wagon-Load of Misery.

A wagon-load of misery excited pity at Ottawa, Kansas. It was a handcuffed thief on his way to prison; his insane wife, who was being taken to an asylum; two children, going to a poorhouse, and a dead baby, bound for a graveyard. The object in taking them all in one wagon was to manage the woman easily, as she refused to be parted from the rest.

The said action is brought to recover a judgment against you defendants and in favor of plaintiff, for the sum of $500 gold coin, damages alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff by reason of the breaking and washing away of a certain dam belonging to you defendants, which you erected across the natural channel of Franktown creek, in said county, and thereby obstructed the flow of the waters of said creek, plaintiff alleging that by reason of your unskillfulness in the construction of said dam, and your gross negligence, inattention thereto, and mismanagement thereof, the said dam was broken, and the great flow of water therefrom, on or about the 2d dry of February, A.
